Dear volunteers and supporters,

Our vision is a place where everyone has a decent place to live. That may sound like an audacious goal, but thanks to caring partners like you, we are making great strides building alongside families who are working hard to secure their own futures and who come to us for a hand up, not a hand out. Meet our newest homeowner:

Deborah McKinnon is a mother of three who will move into her new Habitat home with her 14 year old son, Amar. She is a graduate of Terry Sanford HS and has been in Fayetteville all her life. Ms. McKinnon is a teacher's assistant at Head Start and works part-time at Wal-Mart. Her son, Amar, is a freshman at Trinity Christian High school where he plays basketball and football. The McKinnon Family was referred to our homeownership program by friends who are Habitat homeowners. They are most looking forward to engaging friends, family and church in building alongside them to fulfill the sweat equity requirement and contribute to lasting change in the B Street community.

The B Street neighborhood has a coalition of residents, Habitat staff, City of Fayetteville officials, community leaders, and business owners who are building a healthy community through healthful living initiatives and asset-based development.

You can help Ms. McKinnon become the first Habitat partner family to move into the B Street area. JOIN US ON JUNE 24 FOR HABITAT 24. With your help, this inaugural 24-hour build will not end until walls are raised, a roof is overhead, and windows and doors are in place. Engagement in Habitat 24 improves a family's future for generations to come. Construction experience is not required.
